

Rhine River Terminal Falls To Canadians

hundred yards, and apparently were in position for a direct assault on the big road junction. Other units expanded the easternmost of two bridgeheads over the Niers to a mile and three quarters. The two footholds across the river west of Goch were expected to be joined soon.

German resistance still was tough. Additional reinforcements were believed to have moved in before Cremer's front.

Hazy weather held down air activity. The First Tactical Air Force reported 121 fighter-bomber sorties by noon.

HEAVY EXPLOSIONS
A series of heavy explosions from the Arnhem area 16 miles north of Kleve aroused speculation that the Germans were dynamiting the Rhine dykes and locks there to spill new floods down on the advancing Canadian army.

The Germans were fighting savagely with their backs to the Rhine and pumping in fresh reserves hourly to bolster their line, but field dispatches said the reappearance of Allied airpower over the battlefield had given a new list to the British drive.

Wearied and mud-stained after a week of bitter slugging across the flooded Rhineland, Canadian troops on the northern flank of Lt. Gen. H. D. G. Crerar's attack front went forward to the Rhine with a rush early today.

NAZIS FIGHT HARD
The Canadians captured War-buysen, three miles north of Kleve, and drove ahead almost two miles into the river hamlet of Hurendelch directly across the Rhine from Emmerich.

German Infantry and armored forces were reported battling desperately to prevent a crossing, backed up by heavy artillery fire from the far side of the Rhine.

English home troops, at the same time, broke out of their Niers river bridgeheads on the southern side of the Reichswald forest and fought their way down to within two miles north and west of Goch against heavy opposition.

HOMMERSUM TAKEN
Hommersum was taken by the British late yesterday and the entire north bank of the Niers was in British hands along a five-mile stretch running from Gennep to within a mile east of Kessel.

The Germans threw in several sharp counter-attacks against the bridgeheads yesterday, but they were beaten off by ground fire and a storm of bombs and rocket shells from the supporting Allied air forces.

Hundreds of other attacking planes skimmed over the heads of the advancing British to smash groups of Nazi troops trying to form up in the rear for new counter-blows.

Almost 2,000 American and British planes joined in the battle for the Ruhr by daylight yesterday, piling up a heavy toll of destruction on the already-battered German communications system in and behind the fighting area.

LULL CONTINUES
The uneasy lull on the British Second and U.S. Ninth Army fronts to the south continued early today, although German spokesmen renewed their warnings that a grand-scale Allied offensive is about to erupt into the Cologne plain opposite Aachen.

Nazi military commentators boasted that the Germans high command was ready for the attack and predicted that it would bring on "The bloodiest battle of this war."

Only local skirmishing was reported from the American First Army front on the headquarters of the Boer River, although American artillery broke up one strong German patrol attempting to raid their positions around Hellenthal, three miles southwest of Schleiden.

BEAT OFF ATTACK
Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's U.S. Third Army forces beat off one strong counter-attack that succeeded in winning a temporary foothold in the northern corner of Pruen. About 100 Nazis broke into the town under cover of darkness, but they were killed or chased back across the Rhine River after a brief fight.

More than 80 miles to the south, other units of the Third Army moved up to within a half-mile west of the Pruen River on a front of more than six miles, pushing their bridgehead east of the Surs River a maximum of three miles into Germany.

The information bureau statement said it was believed more than 6,000 Japanese troops were at Tomohon. Fire bombs razed food supplies at the source, destroying rice fields and gardens, while low-level bombing and strafing with machine-gun and cannon wiped out the transport pool, housed in six large buildings.

The Japanese were sent into Alberta at the instance of the B.C. Security Commission soon after the outbreak of war with Japan. They were removed from the western portion of B.C.

The delegation also urged the government to continue efforts to obtain a commercial broadcasting license for radio station CKUA.

"We believe the standard of programs from this station is much higher than from other stations, and the federation will support your endeavors to obtain the license," it was stated.

HEALTH QUESTION
The cabinet was asked by the group to consider establishment of clinics offering complete medical examination to the general public.

An eight-hour day regulation to cover all hospitals in the province was again urged by the federation. As a means to encourage young women to enter the nursing profession, it was suggested the government could minimize the cost of training to nursing students by providing free courses and books.

Procedure to be followed in the case of jurisdictional disputes between rival labor unions was discussed by the delegation. It was urged procedure be changed from its present form. "We suggest that in the event of an arbitration board being established, that both unions involved be allowed a member on this board."

Clear definition in labor legislation of the term "union membership" was urged also.

Rate of compensation in case of accidents should be raised to 100 per cent of earnings at the time of the accident, and the compensation should date from actual time of the accident, the brief stated.

Members of the delegation stated truck drivers and taxi drivers should be brought under an eight-hour day. "This should be done not only in the interests of the truckers, but also for the safety of other drivers, and in the interest and safety of the general public."

Free education up to and including university training was urged in the brief.

FREE TEXT BOOKS
Free text books for all public and high school pupils also was requested. A short course on labor leadership, along the lines of present short courses in agriculture, were suggested.

Raising of minimum wage standards to a level when would provide a decent standard of living for a worker and his family was suggested in the brief.

Chinese Troops Occupy Burmese Town of Kutkai

CHUNGKING, Feb. 15.—(BUP)—Chinese troops have occupied the Burma road town of Kutkai, 38 miles north of Japanese-held Lashio, a communique said today.

A southeast Asia communique disclosed that the Chinese forces were using tanks in driving toward Lashio and had defeated a small Japanese armored force midway between Kutkai and Hsienwei, 32 miles from the old Burma road junction point.

Calgary Unit Led Canucks' Winter Drive

By DOUGLAS AMARON
WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY IN GERMANY, Feb. 15—(CP)—The names of eight Canadian infantry battalions which have been engaged in the early phases of the 1st Canadian Army's winter offensive were released for publication last night.

They were: The Calgary Highlanders; Le Regiment de Maisonneuve, Montreal; the Regina Rifles; the North Shore (New Brunswick) Regiment, Newcastle, N.B.; Le Regiment de la Chaudiere, Lake Megantic, Que.; the Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, Toronto; the Highland Light Infantry of Canada, Galt, Ont.; the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders, Cornwall, Ont.

FIRST IN BATTLE

The Calgary Highlanders and the Maisonneuve were the first Canadian formations to enter this battle, storming down from their hillside positions behind last Thursday's tremendous barrage to capture the German border village of Wyler, about 4½ miles southeast of Nijmegen. The Calgarys cleared the village itself and its strong flanking defences while the French-speaking troops eliminated strongpoints on their right and advanced almost to Kranenburg, 2½ miles southeast of Wyler.

The other formations, which it now is permissible to name, engaged in a strange amphibious war across the flooded fields east of Nijmegen. In some places they met stubborn resistance and in other instances they occupied towns without firing a shot.

The North Shores had to fight for Zandpol, six miles due east of Nijmegen, and the trench-lined dike to the north but they occupied Keekerdol, 1½ miles northeast of Zandpol, without opposition.

TOOK PRISONERS

The Chaudiere fought around Leuth, a half-mile southeast of Zandpol, and captured several hundred prisoners while losing two men themselves.

Millingen, two miles northeast of Zandpol, was occupied by the Queen's Own Rifles after a long advance by Buffalo, an amphibious vehicle, and along a dike while the Glens, with the Highland Light Infantry on their left flank, broke down stubborn German resistance to capture Donsbruggen, four miles southeast of Zandpol.

The Reginas' principal fighting was on the dikes near Zifflich, a mile northeast of Wyler, and in the village itself where they captured many prisoners. One company of Reginas occupied Mehr, 2½ miles southeast of Zandpol, without opposition.

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—(CP)—A defence headquarters spokesman said last night that composition of the 1st Canadian Army engaged in the current offensive on the western front cannot be disclosed at present for "security reasons."

He was commenting on a New York dispatch which quoted Brig. Gen. Horace Sewell, military writer for the British information services in New York, as saying in his daily commentary that "the troops serving with the 1st Canadian Army are reported to be ¾ British and ¼ Canadian."

COMPOSITION CHANGES

"Since the 1st Canadian Army landed in France there have been British and other Allied formations under its command," said the defence spokesman. "The composition of any army changes from time to time in accordance with operational requirements. Obviously, no release can be made at this time of those formations engaged in the present operations."

Brenner Rail Route, East Italy Targets Attacked by Planes

ROME, Feb. 15.—(BUP)—Planes of the Mediterranean Allied Air Force today continued their assaults on enemy communications, concentrating on targets in Eastern Italy and on the Brenner rail route. Fighter bombers of the coastal air force attacked the port of San Remo and barracks in Northwest Italy, and hit bridges in Northwest Italy and Yugoslavia. Escorted heavy bombers of the 15th Army Air Force attacked oil targets in the Vienna area and rail yards in Austria and Yugoslavia.

Had Cabin, Supplies Army Deserters Prepared For Comfortable Winter

PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Four army deserters, captured in a mountain hideout during the week-end, were prepared for a comfortable winter. They had built a log cabin, 12 by 16 feet, in the shadow of Mount McKay, 10 miles southwest of Fort William, and had furnished it with a stove and heater, beds and sleeping equipment, and stocked it with food. One of the men had been absent without leave for five months and the others for about three months, and had lived in the bush cabin for about a month. Three of the men were from Fort William, and the fourth was only half a mile from his home. Sgt. Ronald Harrison, head of the Provost Corps detachment here, told of the capture yesterday, and he said no resistance was offered. Only one of the men possessed army clothing and equipment. The others were dressed in civilian clothes, including heavy bush shirts and boots. Acting on a tip, four members of the Provost Corps went to the cabin Sunday evening, walking in from the nearest highway, a distance of more than a mile. Two of the men were found at supper; the other two were absent, but at 3 a.m. Monday they were arrested in another cabin, further along the trail. Three of the deserters were sent to Winnipeg, from where they will be returned to their units to face absent without leave charges, and the other was sent to Toronto, to rejoin his unit in MD 2.

Big Three Plan General Peace Parley Seen When All Fighting Ends

By FLORA LEWIS
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Indications mounted today that the Big Three have decided to hold a general peace conference when all the fighting is done.

This represents a change from earlier official views, especially among American authorities, that the Second Great War would wind up with a series of piecemeal settlements unlike the long, formal peace of Paris and Versailles.

Doubtless, the conference will await the defeat of Japan. Officials hope that an international security organization will be set up by then.

MANY PROBLEMS
The peace agency could handle many of the problems facing the Allies. It now appears, however, that the new map of the world will be drawn up in a separate, special meeting which will probably result in a treaty.

Messrs. Churchill, Roosevelt and Stalin referred to a peace conference in their communique on Poland. They said the extent of German territory awarded Poland would be reviewed at such a meeting.

War mobilizer James F. Byrnes, giving a first-hand report on the Big Three meeting, said "it is to be expected that there will be a peace conference."

TO BE DIFFERENT
The meeting is bound to be different from Versailles, however. The League of Nations covenant was included in the treaty signed there, which made peace with Germany.

This time the Dumbarton Oaks charter is expected to be a separate treaty.

Actual peace with Germany may not be signed for many years.

Envoy Dies

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Hon. George Depas, Greek minister to Canada, died here yesterday after a brief illness.

Premier at Athens Prosperous and Free Greece Britain's Aim Says Churchill

ATHENS, Feb. 15.—(Reuters)—Prime Minister Churchill told a crowd of 25,000 persons in Constitution Square yesterday that "the freedom, prosperity and happiness of the Greek people is dear to all the nations of the British Commonwealth and Empire."

Breaking his journey home from the Crimea conference, the Prime Minister spoke into a microphone overlooking the tomb of Greece's Unknown Soldier as Foreign Secretary Eden, Harold MacMillan, British minister resident in the Mediterranean and Reginald Leeper, British ambassador to Greece stood beside him.

Present also was the entire Greek cabinet and Archbishop Damaskinos, the regent. "Soldiers and citizens of Athens and of Greece," Mr. Churchill said, "these are great days. These are days when the dawn is bright and when darkness falls away. A future lies before your country."

SITUATION CLEARING

"There has been much misunderstanding and ignorance of the common cause in many parts of the world and misrepresentations of the issues fought out here. But now these matters are clearing and there is understanding of the part Greece has played and will play in the world."

"Speaking as an Englishman I am very proud of the part which the British army has played in protecting this great and immortal city from violence and anarchy (cheers)."

"Our two countries have long marched along the dusty hard road, united in friendship and loyalty. 'The freedom, prosperity and happiness of the Greek people is dear to all the nations of the British Commonwealth and Empire.'"

Declaring that Britain would march with Greece "until we reach the broad highlands of justice and peace," Mr. Churchill said that no one must fail in his duty to his country. The Greek nation must stand first in every heart.

TAKE PROPER PLACE

Mr. Churchill declared that he hoped from the bottom of his heart that Greece would take her proper place in the circle of victorious nations—nations which had suffered terribly in the war.

"Let party hatreds die," he said. "Let there be unity! Greece forever!"

Martial law ended in Greece yesterday in line with the agreement reached by the government and the EAM (National Liberation Front) in the wake of the civil war.

The same decree which abolished martial law annulled all sentences passed by the military courts in their trials of ELAS (EAM's fighting branch) supporters.

Before Mr. Churchill spoke, Archbishop Damaskinos, the Greek regent, said that nature had "made festival for the presence amongst us of the glorious son of England—Winston Churchill."

It was a great event because it came after the great event of the Crimea conference "which will pattern and shape the destinies of the world."

PLASTIRAS SPEAKS

Gen. Nikolas Plastiras, who spoke after Mr. Churchill, welcomed the British Prime Minister, saying that during the dark years of the occupation the Greek people had followed his voice confidently directing the world against the powers of darkness.

"The Greek government is deeply grateful to its great allies and particularly to Churchill, who has always been a friend and supporter of Greece. The Greek people will never forget," he said.

(Mr. Churchill last went to Athens on a three-day visit from Dec. 25 to Dec. 28, 1944. He was accompanied by Foreign Secretary Eden and the outcome of the visit was the appointment of Archbishop Damaskinos as Greek regent.)

Glorious sunshine and a cloudless blue sky made a setting of almost theatrical perfection to the visit.

The great crowd was orderly and even solemn as if aware not only

London Poles Rap Russ "Occupation"

By W. R. HIGGINBOTHAM
LONDON, Feb. 15.—(BUP)—

Prime Minister Tomas Arciszewski of the Polish government-in-exile bitterly denounced the Russian "occupation" of Poland today and announced that his government "will never surrender" to the partitioning decision of the Big Three.

The white-bearded former revolutionary told a press conference that his government had no faith in Soviet Premier Stalin's words about democracy and accused the Russians of starving and looting the Polish people.

Arciszewski declared that the exiled government has no intention of resigning in compliance with the Big Three decision and has no right to do so without instructions from the people of Poland.

Any resignation at this time would be under "foreign pressure and legally impossible," he said.

The Churchill-Roosevelt-Stalin decision to partition Poland and establish a new coalition government was a great blow to Poland, he added, asserting that it violated all the desires of the Polish people.

of the significance of this occasion but also of its relations to the Big Three meeting which has just concluded.

FREQUENT CHEERING

The crowd cheered as aircraft circled over the city and broke into new rows later as an automobile procession brought the distinguished visitors to the square.

The British visitors and high Greek officials were guests of the regent at a banquet last night.

With Tap Running Canadians of First Army Fight in "Giant Bathtub"

By CHARLES LYNCH

WITH THE CANADIAN FORCES ON THE WESTERN FRONT, Feb. 15.—(Reuters)—The war on some parts of the 1st Canadian Army front yesterday was a watery one—a war of swimming tanks, outboard motorboats and heavy seas.

It was afloat on the Rhine for a short while yesterday in an amphibious "Buffalo" near Keekin, one of the German Rhine villages, and one of the dozens of small places isolated by the floods let loose by the Germans.

Nearly all travel along this flooded west bank of the Rhine is by Buffalo or by Duck—amphibious vehicles.

Where two weeks ago there were green fields, there are white-capped billows, as the brown waters whirled in through the dykes blown by the Germans.

But yesterday these waters swirled out through the holes blown by the Allies in the dykes near Nijmegen for this purpose. This 30-square-mile area was like a giant bathtub, with water pouring out of the tap and running down the drain.

Bomb 'The Rock' Americans Prepare Corregidor Landing

By WILLIAM B. DICKINSON
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

MANILA, Feb. 15.—(BUP)—American troops threw an armored cordon across the burning Manila waterfront today and swung in from the south and east to storm the last big centre of Japanese resistance in the old walled city.

Twenty-five miles to the west, American warplanes were hammering away at the fortress island of Corregidor in the mouth of Manila bay to clear the way for a sea-borne landing on "The Rock."

Recapture of Corregidor would enable the big guns of the American battle fleet to work over the remaining Japanese defenses inside Manila at close range and probably would wipe out all resistance in short order.

Tokyo broadcasts said American warships shelled Corregidor heavily on Tuesday and that mine sweepers had begun clearing the channel between the island and Bataan peninsula, suggesting that a naval assault on Manila bay was imminent.

Winnipeg Theatres Closed in Dispute

WINNIPEG, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Projectionists of 17 of 23 Winnipeg theatres, involved in a union jurisdictional dispute, took a "holiday" last night to view National Film Board pictures while doors of their theatres remained closed. Lobbies in almost all downtown theatres were in blackness but ushers and other employees were in buildings waiting for projectionists to resume duty.

Projectionists of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, and Moving Picture Operators of the United States and Canada, Local 299, (AFL) will remain off duty until projectionists of six theatres quit the One Big Union, said William P. Coverl, international vice-president.

Mr. Coverl and four union representatives of the IATSE officials of Famous Players and western theatres conferred since morning without reaching a solution. Mr. Coverl said the men voted to take a "holiday" pending settlement of the union jurisdictional problem.

U.S. Subs Destroy 31 More Foe Ships

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—United States submarines operating in Far Eastern waters in the last several months have sunk 31 more enemy vessels, including a converted light cruiser, a converted gunboat and an escort vessel. The cumulative figures boosted to 1,020 the total of Japanese vessels of all types which have fallen prey to American submarines.

How Clover Leaf SALMON IS MEETING WAR'S DEMANDS.

1. In 1941, when the Battle of the Atlantic was at its peak, the food situation in Great Britain was desperate. The Canadian Government, acting for the British Ministry of Food, requested British Columbia producers for all the canned salmon that could be spared, and for a huge increase in canned herring production.

2. Immediately after the Japanese struck at Pearl Harbor in December 1941, the Royal Canadian Navy requisitioned all the large salmon and herring fishing boats on the Pacific coast as an urgent defence measure. The removal of this large tonnage greatly handicapped the Pacific coast fishing industry.

A limited amount of Clover Leaf Salmon from the 1944 pack has been sold in Canada . . . not nearly enough to fill the demand. When the war emergency has passed, ample supplies will again be available in all grocery stores from coast to coast.

NOW that the final game of the city junior league schedule has been wiped off the slate, hockey fans and players can settle down to the more serious business of playoffs. And so far as Edmonton is concerned the next stop along the trail which points toward the Memorial cup will be the city semi-final.

EAC and Maple Leaf Athletic Club teams, who finished second and third respectively in the four club loop, will commence their two-game total-goal series at 9 p.m. on Saturday. The second is billed for next Monday night.

Canadians, by virtue of finishing in first place, drew the bye and will take on the semi-final winner in a best of five series scheduled to begin next Wednesday. The survivor will meet the winner of the Calgary-Camrose-Drumheller play-off for the Alberta title and the right to proceed into the inter-provincial series.

EAC'S SURPRISE TEAM

BILL DRYVERS EAC squad seems to have been the surprise team of the Junior circuit. Canadians generally were expected to have an edge prior to the opening of the season and Maple Leafs had a strong juvenile club to draw from.

Leafs tied Canadians 7-7 on Jan. 31 and battled them on fairly even terms in several other games, but they never were able to take the EAC boys, although in three of the four games, the margin was just a single goal.

The Clubmen have been improving steadily and administered the only setback Canadians have sustained in 18 starts. In Bob Manson, Don Benkie and Jack Duffield, they have three dangerous snipers.

Leafs of course have been hit hard by losses of key players at various times this winter, but they too produced a very potent striking line in Jimmy King, Mike Thomas and Bud McPherson.

Whether McPherson will be back for the playoffs has not yet been announced. Fred Krook was brought from the juveniles to fill in at left wing last night and he made a very favorable impression. That the new junior Leaf rookie delivered is proven by the fact that he set up two of the four goals made against South Side.

ANOTHER EIGHT-ENDER

EVIDENTLY this must be a good season for eight-enders for another has just been reported—this time from the Peace River area. This corner is indebted to Robert La Roche of Hythe, Alta., for the information.

Mr. La Roche says the perfect end turned up in a regular club game at Hythe, a short time ago. H. Lund was the skip of the rink which accomplished the unusual feat, the other members being Mrs. D. McKenzie (third), Mrs. M. Patterson (second) and Miss J. Lund (lead).

Tommy Dark came up with a "full-house" on the opening day of the bonspiel and still another is said to have occurred in Lacombe. But they'll always be rare, for they're mighty hard to put across. Only a very few amongst the thousands of curlers have experienced the thrill.

S. Sask. Consols To "Russ" Smith

REGINA, Feb. 15.—(CP)—In a dramatic game that went 13 ends, J. H. "Russ" Smith of Regina made an astonishing comeback to win the Southern Saskatchewan curling championship from Fred Piller of Melville last night.

Smith meets Bill Hain of Saskatoon for the Saskatchewan title in Regina on Friday and Saturday. The Regina skip won his game after being three down at the 10th end, winding up with an 8-7 victory. He picked up one on the 11th, made a draw dead to the button and threw a small port for his two on the 12th.

Piller was in trouble on the 13th, but came through with a brilliant rock to be living shot when Smith threw his last stone.

Canadiens Beat Cataracts 17-7

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que., Feb. 15.—(CP)—Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League, last night trounced Shawinigan Falls Cataracts of the Inter-provincial Hockey League, 17-7, in an exhibition game before 5,000 fans. The Habits held the advantage throughout, with a seven-goal outburst in the first period, and a six-goal spurge in the third.

Each period was played for 25 minutes to enable the Habits to squeeze in extra practice, and the fans liked the added time.

Buddy O'Connor, Fernand Gauthier and Bob Fillion were dressed in Cataract uniforms and each tallied one goal for Shawinigan.

Elmer Leach and Murph Chamberlain were the high scorers for the Habits, each with four goals. Glen Harmon also hit the high brackets with three goals.

Pittsburgh 8-4 Over Cleveland

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Pittsburgh Hornets scored Cleveland Barons 8-4 here last night and enhanced their chances of overtaking the second-place Indianapolis Capitals in a bid for Western Division playoff honors in the American Hockey League.

The triumph, coupled with the 4-3 setback suffered by Indianapolis at the hands of Buffalo, moved the Hornets to within three points of the Caps.

Jameson got two for Pittsburgh. M. Beattie, Walton, Hemmerling, Graeme, Manly and Brodeur got the others. Hartstone scored three for Cleveland. Beattie got the other.

Detroit Downs Rangers 4-2 To Assure Spot in Playoffs

DETROIT, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Defenceman Bill (Flash) Hollett's two first period goals last night started Detroit Red Wings to their fifth victory over New York Rangers 4-2 before a small crowd of 7,997 fans.

The victory boosted Detroit's second place edge over Toronto to six full games and insured the Red Wings of a berth in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Rookie goalie Doug Stevenson, playing his second professional game for the Rangers, fumbled the catch of Hollett's 65-foot shot midway of the opening stanza and booted the puck into the net.

Hollett's second goal came on a solo dash just 2½ minutes before the end of the first period and gave the Wings a 2-0 lead.

Stevenson kicked out 16 Detroit shots in holding the Red Wings scoreless in the second as Kilby MacDonald punched in a rebound from four feet to trim the Detroit edge to 2-1.

Jud McAttee, Detroit leftwing, and Ab Demarco, Ranger centre, exchanged goals within the space of a minute during the final session and Ted Lindsay clinched it with a six-footer off Murray Armstrong's pass nine minutes before the finish.

By losing the Rangers remained a half game out of last place and gave Chicago a chance to move out of the cellar tonight by beating them at New York.

Coast Team Outplayed Throughout

By CECIL GOLDSTICK

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 15.—Clarence Moher's Canadians swept through the second game of their exhibition series against the Pacific Coast League junior all-stars at the Forum last night by dishing up a superior brand of hockey to finish on the long end of a 4-1 score.

The 5,100 fans that jammed the big ice palace here saw a different bunch of young pucksters from the Alberta capital city than last Monday night when they had to come from behind to edge the coasters 4-3 after being three goals in arrears.

Having a chance to get acclimatized and rested after the long train ride over the Rockies the Edmontonians made it clear to the hockey fans of the B.C. metropolis why they have been picked as one of the clubs to beat in the western Memorial series by displaying real class to out-play Coach Johnny Clarke's kids during the whole 60 minutes.

It was only the great work of Al Rollins in the all-stars nets that kept the score down. Time after time the Canadians were in on his doorstep with only the big former Moose Jaw youngster to beat. In the last period alone the visitors had a total of 20 shots fired at him and only managed to beat him twice during that time.

Six minutes after the game got underway defenceman Jim Culham drew a penalty for boarding Vince Bannion. Edmonton started a power attack and on the first rush with the puck being cleared back in their own section, Bill Gadsby carried it behind his own net and around the defence to go in and made a solo down right boards and beat Rollins with a shot from the upper right corner for the first and only goal of the opening period.

At the 3:05 mark in the second frame Allan Hopfe fed a pass over from the corner to Ron Dalzell who made no mistake with it in front of the net to deadlock the count and net the only marker for the coast boys. The Moher-coached lads turned on the pressure and held the play up at their opponents end the most of the period. They were finally rewarded when Vince Bannion backhanded one past Rollins on a nice play with Cy Thomas and Ari Kaleta right in front of the net, just two minutes before the period ended.

Coming out for the final stanza leading by a single marker Bannion put the Edmontonians two up on a pretty play with Albert Superstein and Cy Thomas getting the assists. Right after this Jimmy Slugg and Superstein were in alone on break-aways but Rollins outgassed them. However, Superstein on a third try, after being set up by Don Campbell right at the goal mouth, proved he could beat the Vancouver goalie and did so by finding a corner that was not covered to ring up the fourth and final goal of the game.

Don Murray while not having as much as his opponent at the other end to do, played well and except for the one that beat him took care of everything that came his way in grand fashion. The defence of Bill Gadsby and Albert Superstein played a great game. The latter had the crowd on their feet several times with his tornado rushes.

John Rypien had to leave the game half way through the first period when he injured his knee after colliding with Culham near his own blue line. Cy Thomas also numbered among the casualty list by receiving a slight cut over his left ear when he fell on one of his opponent's stick behind the Vancouver goal in the third period, but he came back and played a good game. It was learned after the game that the injury wasn't serious and only needed one stitch to close the wound.

Two more games have been arranged for the visiting pucksters who are making a name for themselves out here. One will be played at New Westminster against another all-star team tonight while the other will be with Frank Dollen's Seattle Ironmen, leaders of the northern division of the Pacific Coast Hockey League.

LINEUPS
Edmonton: Murray, Gadsby, K. Bannion, Slugg, Campbell, E. Thomas, Spence, Superstein, D. Anderson, Spence, LeClair, Kaleta.
Vancouver: Rollins, Culham, Wright, H. Sommer, Hildebrand, Dougherty, Sub—Hopfe, Urcenko, Dalzell, Woodside, Gilmour, McDonald, Laidlaw, Reid.

Thomas Collects Three Points

Leafs Turn Back South Side In Last of Junior Schedule

AFTER being held to a single counter in the first two periods, Maple Leafs rapped in three in the last 20 minutes of play at the Arena Wednesday night to hand the South Side puck-chasers a 4-1 defeat in the final contest of the City Junior Hockey League schedule before a slim crowd. First game of the semi-finals between EAC and Leafs commences Saturday night.

Mike Thomas and Jimmy King again paced Johnny Colville's somewhat depleted Leafs, netting two goals each. Thomas also picked up an assist for three points.

Fred Krook, up from juvenile ranks, took over the left wing duties on the Leafs' first string with Thomas and King, and assisted in two of the four tallies. The winners, who finished in third place behind Canadians and EAC also had Marsh Kryz up for this encounter to handle part of the defence chores.

The Maple Leafs were ahead right from midway in the opening session and goalie Jack Manson was less than eight minutes from a shutout when Bob Hall beat him at 12:29 of the last frame.

LEAFS TAKE LEAD

Thomas gave the Leafs the lead in the first period when he picked up a loose puck at centre ice and caught the defence out of position to skate down and fire the disc past Colin Kilburn. Johnny Gosling chased Mike right from the centre ice zone, but couldn't catch him before he let go his fast, low shot.

Chris Anderson was thumbed for tripping—the only penalty of the game—at the 18 minute mark in the initial count, but the game South Siders managed to hold off any power the Leafs could turn on. Both clubs played a slow and clean brand of hockey in the second chapter and although both goaltenders had considerable to do, the score remained at 1-0 throughout.

The South Siders opened up an attack in an effort to knot the count as the third period opened, but the Leafs weathered that and at 3:18 Thomas added another for a loose puck just outside the losers' blue line after a Maple Leaf rush was broken up, and passed to Thomas on the right wing. Thomas was in the clear and had a perfect shot on Kilburn.

LOSERS REWARDED

The South Siders' hopes didn't shrink with the Leafs' second marker, however, and they continued to give out with everything they had. They kept Manson busy and finally were rewarded when George Ego fired and Hall picked up the rebound to spoil Manson's hopes for a shutout.

This put new life in the game, especially for coach Joe Brown's boys, but King ended their chances for a win when he batted in two within three minutes in the latter part of the stanza. Thomas passed out from the corner for the third Maple Leaf counter and then with less than two minutes remaining Krook blazed one that just missed the cage and came bouncing back off the boards. King batted it past Kilburn in quick fashion.

LINEUPS
Maple Leafs: Manson, Hall, Lewis, King, Thomas, Krook, Sub—Smith, Kilburn, Kryz, Davis, Wright, South Side: Kilburn, Gosling, Erickson, Laidlaw, Nall, McDonald, Sub—McDonald, Robertson, C. Anderson, Hall, Cane, Ego.

Believe It Or Not

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Many world champions have appeared in Madison Square Garden; but seldom has one caused as much comment as Lena, the champion mother of dogdom. Lena is the little foxhound that broke all bow-wow birth records by having 23 puppies in one batch.

During the three-day stand of the Westminster Kennel Club show at the Garden, thousands visited Lena and her amazing litter—22 of which are still alive and nearly nine months old. The show closed Tuesday night.

Lena—of the tawny pelt, long flapping ears and pinkish snout—looked this massed attention in good grace except when smirking matrons remarked: "Why, the dear little thing is in whelp again. She should be given an 'E' for production."

At these repeated wisecracks, it seemed to the imaginative writer that Lena grinned in boredom as if to imply: "Get out the corn, lady; can the corn."

2,650 POOCHES IN SHOW

Lena held court from an elevated stall or "bench" somewhat aft of the large fenced enclosure that confined her 22 youngsters. Their entire layout was at the end of the huge Garden basement that sheltered most of the 2,650 yapping, barking pooches in the show.

Visitors noted immediately that all of Lena's offsprings were spotted with black markings, whereas there was no black on Lenny Lena. This difference was explained by Lt. Commander Newbold Ely of the Coast Guard, their owner.

Commander Ely said, "Lena is an American-Welsh foxhound. Her grand-mother was brought over from Wales. Lena was mated with a hound of the Penn-Marydel type named Kirkwood Call. He had black markings." Kirkwood Call is owned by Mrs. M. Roy Jackson, a joint-master of the Radnor Hunt at Radnor, Pa.

PREVIOUS RECORD 21

How did Commander Ely explain Lena's record batch of pups? "We don't attempt to explain it, said the tall, dark-haired man in blue. "Everyone was, and still is amazed at it; particularly because it was Lena's first litter. She's only two years old, you know. And she's a comparatively small animal."

The previous record? Oh—that was 21 puppies, held by a Great Dane whose name I've forgotten. Nearly all the Dane's pups died in their first week. The only one that Lena lost died two weeks ago, from a cause not yet determined.

Commander Ely raises foxhounds at his estate in Ambler, Pa. What does he raise them for? Fox hunting, of course. He and Mrs. Ely ride in the hounds near Shinererville, Pa. The commander is an expert on dogs, in addition to being editor and owner of the magazine "Judge." He supervises the procurement and training of war dogs for the coast guard. He returned recently from operations in the Pacific.

Concerning Lena, the commander said he hoped she would not hit the jackpot. He would settle for a half-dozen pups. It was an expensive proposition—caring for 23. Two "foster mothers" had to be hired to help Lena feed them when they were very young. They had to be sent to a special kennel where they could be watched 24 hours a day; and as they grew older and bigger their feed bill soared.

The Doodles of dogdom headed for home at Ambler Wednesday.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By FRED KERNER

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—(CP)—One of the 'reddest' arguments in Canadian women's basketball circles has cropped up once more. Percy Page, whose Edmonton Grads were world's championship champions in their hey-day, again comes to the defence of his smooth-passing, basket-happy girls.

The silver-topped cage coach, who keeps abreast of court doings at his western home, takes Roy Van Graffan to task for the umpteenth time. Van Graffan coaches Rochester Filarets when not tending to his duties as a basketball umpire and continually has claimed that his Filarets could have beaten Grads had the teams met. Page, of course, is inclined to disagree.

And Percy has substantial factual evidence to bolster his counter claim that Grads—any addition of them—could have held their own against their Rochester rivals. In 25 years of play, the Grads girls ran up a 502-win total while dropping 20 games, some of the latter to boys' teams. Too, they cleaned the boards at every Olympic game and stepped every team of note in the US at the time.

Congential Percy told Bill (Niagara Falls Review) Gaynon he has no desire to enter an argument with Van Graffan, but thinks the Rochester mentor has gone overboard on a question that never can be satisfactory settled.

Grads had one opportunity to play Filarets some six years ago, but forewent that chance to attend a presentation to their team captain, Noel MacDonald, in Toronto. Noel, king-pin centre of the team, was being awarded the Rose Bowl, emblematic of outstanding ability in Canadian Women's Athletic circles.

Major Baseball Schedules Set For 1945 Season

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Major league baseball schedules calling for 154 games and the routine alignment of teams are in the hands of the printers. It was learned Wednesday with only minor changes from the 1944 playing charts.

The three-trip plan adopted by the sport after a January, 1943, conference between the late Commissioner K. M. Landis and Joseph B. Eastman, then director of the office of defence transportation, will be continued.

Delay of some western club owners in selecting their night game dates held up the National League calendar may be further altered to take care of an increase in night ball activity.

President Ford Frick of the National loop insisted there has been no talk of merging the circuits on an east-vs-west basis and said there was no indication the ODT would make any such request according to his recent conversation with Colonel Monroe Johnson, director of the transportation bureau.

"Such a plan might make traffic more complicated in some places," commented Frick. "It is on the short trips from New York to Boston and Washington that facilities are over-jammed."

Manitoba Junior Play-Offs Begin

WINNIPEG, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Manitoba junior hockey play-offs began last night when Winnipeg Ukrainian Athletic Club defeated St. Boniface 4-thletes 6-5 in the first of a best-of-three north division semi-final series.

Leafs at one time, added 79 points to his 43 figure to gain his first big league chance with the Philadelphia Athletics who drafted him from the Bisons.

Appearing in 150 games, Smith belted out 170 hits including 30 doubles, four triples and eight home runs and drove in 55 runs to top teammate Eddie Kobesky's 328 average. The champ is a left-handed hitter and an outfielder.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Ray (Sugar) Robinson of New York exploded the ring invincibility of George Costner, Cincinnati, Ohio, by knocking him out in the first round of their scheduled 10-round welterweight battle in Chicago Stadium last night.

Costner had won 23 straight fights by knockouts.

Against Robinson, No. 1 challenger for the world welterweight title, however, Costner looked like a novice. He was on his side, unable to arise, after two minutes and 55 seconds of the bout. He never succeeded in landing a damaging blow on Robinson.

Robinson, lying Costner up at close range, suddenly cut loose with a whip-cracking left hook to the chin that staggered the Cincinnati boy. He followed it with another left hook to the chin that knocked him out.

President Quinn Of Boston Braves Plans to Retire

BOSTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Bob Quinn, president of the Boston Braves, announced Wednesday night on his 75th birthday, that he would retire from that post to devote his time to development of an extensive farm system for the National League Baseball club.

His son, John, secretary of the Braves, will succeed him as general manager, a position the father has filled while serving as president.

Bob Quinn told reporters at a birthday party in his honor that he believed one of the owners, Joseph Maney, Guido Ruga and Louis Pecini—should be named president.

He will continue as president of the club, he added, until a new one is chosen at an undetermined date.

He said that the club owners planned to either buy or obtain a working agreement with a class AA club. The organization now has a class A club in Hartford, Conn., and a class B club in Evansville, Ind.

The owners, he added, hope to acquire at least one more class B club, two class C teams and as many class D clubs as they can handle conveniently "for expansion purposes."

Two Free-For-Alls As Hershey Wins From Providence

HERSHEY, Pa. Feb. 15.—(AP)—Hershey Bears defeated Providence Reds 3-2 in a wild Eastern Division American Hockey league game here last night.

Two free-for-all battles in the final period resulted in five majors and one match penalty.

Manny Collaw, Red's defenceman, was charged with whacking a spectator over the head with his stick. Collaw was banished to the dressing room.

Bill Gorden and Hal Hooper each got two for Hershey. Chuck Selzer got the other. Jacques Lavoie and Roger Bedard got the Providence goals.

London's air raid alert periods during 1940 covered 1,180 hours, or approximately 48 days, and sirens sounded 400 times.

District News In Brief

Three Hills Reports Progress on New Municipal Hospital Project

THREE HILLS: Good progress on the municipal hospital scheme was reported by H. E. Waterbury at the regular meeting of the board of trade. Citizens were showing much enthusiasm and had held a number of meetings to discuss the project, he said.

Following are the officers elected for the coming year: president, E. Edlund; vice-president, A. Meston; secretary-treasurer, J. P. Lynn; membership committee, S. Dornier, H. F. Pryor, J. Lynn, publicity, M. Leathley, S. Dornier; banquet committee, G. Mitchell and M. Kalbfleisch.

At the annual meeting of the town electors, main topic for discussion revolved around education. E. P. Foster pointed out that centralization of high schools according to government plan, was intended to enlarge existing schools to cope with modern trends of education.

It was moved that the Three Hills school offer to accommodate students from districts 70 miles east and west, and six miles north and south of here, and that Olds and Drumheller school divisions be advised accordingly.

Combined congregational meeting of Three Hills and Sarcee United churches heard encouraging reports on the last year's activities. A total of $12,000 was raised for all purposes.

Elected to the board of the annual congregational meeting of St. Andrews and Bethel Presbyterian Church were E. Potter, R. Grant, S. Quigley, W. Harte, C. J. Davidson and R. Wilson. All reports were satisfactory.

"All the boys are anxious to get home on leave," the soldier declared. "Leave is worked out through a point system, a certain number of points for service in England, and more for Italy and France. When you have saved up 80 points, your name goes into a hat. If it's drawn out, you get your leave home." Pte. Drynan explained. When his leave came up, there were 70 names in the hat, and of the seven names drawn, Pte. Drynan's was the fourth.

GREAT TO BE BACK

The soldier said it was great to come back to Canada and get some Canadian food and friendship again. He was particularly pleased with the variety of lights in Canadian cities. He enlisted in November, 1939 as a motor mechanic and went to England in December, the same year. In June, 1940, he moved across to France. In July, 1943, he was in Sicily and in September, 1944, in Italy. He left that country last month, and his leaving, he says, was his most outstanding service incident.

Born at Pembroke, Ont., he was a fireman on the Michigan Central Railway before enlisting, and plans to return to the same work after the war.

More Than 200,000 War Stamps Sold

There has been no slackening in the tempo of the current war savings stamp campaign being sponsored by the Food and Allied War Savings Stamp Drive, Charles Simmonds, Northern Alberta chairman said Thursday. The drive to date has topped the 200,000 stamp mark, in its march toward the quota of 285,000 stamps.

Mr. Simmonds stated that the drive is particularly successful amongst children. "This is as it should be," Mr. Simmonds said. He pointed out that the purchase and saving of these stamps is the best possible type of endowment for younger children, and one that can be used for educational purposes in years to come.

He announced that a number of steel helmets have been purchased from the government. These "helmets of honor" will be awarded to merchants exceeding their stamp drive quotas and will be displayed by such merchants. The quotas have been set on the basis of past performances.

The drive will be continued until March 9.

Call Conference Of Plant Workers

A conference of all Western Canadian locals of the United Packinghouse Workers of America will be held in the Corona hotel on Feb. 17 and 18.

The purpose is to discuss problems arising out of the current negotiations with Burns, Swifts and Canada Packers and to decide on a policy regarding wages, hours of work and other conditions in the industry. The conference will also discuss organizational problems and make provisions for the calling of future conferences on a national, regional and provincial basis.

About 40 delegates are expected to attend, representing six thousand packinghouse workers in the four western provinces.

Also in attendance will be F. W. Dowling, national director from Toronto, and Frank Ellis, international vice president and director of organization from Chicago. Mr. Ellis will address a mass meeting at the Memorial hall Sunday evening at 8 p.m. sponsored by the Packinghouse Workers' Joint Council and the Edmonton Packinghouse Worker.

Two Men Elude Police Chase in Norwood Area

A shot fired by a policeman failed to stop two men who raced between two buildings in the vicinity of 95 street and 111 avenue, early Thursday, while being pursued after the discovery of a service station break-in.

A third man, said by police to be Robert McGrath, Edmonton, was caught after a short chase and handcuffed by Constable James Mulcahy.

Three policemen, Constables M. Urset, Alex Edmunds and Mulcahy, were operating a prowler car in the Norwood district about 4:10 a.m. when they observed the two men outside the Norwood Service Station.

As the patrol car turned toward them the three men took to their heels. McGrath was overtaken by Constable Mulcahy, who handcuffed and held him. The remaining two were chased along 111 avenue by the other officers.

A moment later, while still retaining custody of his prisoner, Constable Mulcahy saw one of the men run between two nearby buildings. He fired a warning shot into the air.

A concentrated search of the district failed to locate the two men. A number of two by four boards which had been placed as bars across the windows were knocked out, the narrow aperture showing that a small person had squeezed through and then opened the door for his companions.

Proprietor of the garage, Leo Shew, 916 111 avenue, was called to the scene and found about $7 in silver and coppers had disappeared from the cash register.

No pleas were entered by McGrath.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION
What do you think of the plan announced Tuesday to spend some $600,000 this year in paving Edmonton thoroughfares?

THE ANSWERS
GILBERT LANG, carpenter: The money paving we can have done in the city the better. One often hears visitors remark that very few of our streets are paved and the rest are just "mud trails". The better shape our streets are in, the better impression we will give tourists in the days when auto travel is again unrestricted.

JAMES POTTER, salesman: $600,000 sounds like a small sum for paving work, but it is a start. I hope the day is not far distant when all our main roads and most of the side streets will be paved. I hope the program planned for this year will be enlarged for the next and succeeding years, until the unpaved street is the rarity here.

MAITLAND KERR, clerk: More than a half-million-dollar paving program for the coming year will be good news to all who drive cars as well as many others who take pride in modernization of the city. Autos will be owned by more and more people as the years go by and it would not do to neglect Edmonton's roads at this time as an economy measure. The longer they are left unpaved, the more difficult the job will be.

Make Changes in CNR Staff Here

Several personnel changes in the stores department of the Canadian National Railways were announced Thursday by S. E. Keillon, general storekeeper for the western region. These changes follow the promotion of W. A. Charles, formerly district storekeeper at Transcona, who has been transferred to Point St. Charles, Montreal.

E. A. Russell, district storekeeper at Edmonton, has been transferred to a similar position at Transcona, succeeding Mr. Charles. P. F. Padberg, formerly storekeeper at Transcona, has been promoted to be district storekeeper at Edmonton and will succeed Mr. Russell. A. Munro, storekeeper at Edmonton, has been moved to Transcona to succeed Mr. Padberg.

All have had long experience with the stores department of the company and already have assumed their new duties, according to Mr. Keillon.

Critical Stage Is Reached in China Campaign

Hostilities in China are reaching a most critical stage and prospects are that this year will be more difficult than 1944, C. H. Lowe, Calcutta, director in India for the Chinese ministry of information, stated Thursday.

A native Chinese, Mr. Lowe was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Edmonton branch of the Institute of International Affairs at the Macdonald hotel Wednesday night. He spoke on "China in the Eighth Year of War."

He was among the Chinese delegates to the Institute of Pacific Relations conference held in Virginia in January. He is visiting offices of the ministry of information on this continent before going to Britain and returning to Calcutta.

In eight years of war China has lost 2,000,000 men, and although handicapped by lack of adequate modern war equipment the Chinese soldier, through his magnificent fighting spirit, keeps on fighting, Mr. Lowe stated.

GREAT DAMAGE
He said that great damage had been wrought in industrial centres, seaports and factories, while railways also have suffered heavily through enemy action.

"The Chinese soldier never will give up," Mr. Lowe stated. "He is a pretty good fighter and he will do better if he is given better weapons and greater war supplies."

He said that as a result of the opening of the Burma Road and the building of the 2,000-mile pipeline from northern India into southwest China, it was felt that the economic and military supply situation would improve greatly in the next six months.

Commenting on the possible duration of the Japanese war, Mr. Lowe said this would depend on whether the enemy would continue after the Allies made a landing on the Japanese islands. He pointed out that the Japs have a considerable mainland.

He expressed the opinion that it would be only with a landing on the Jap homeland that it could be brought home to the people that they had lost the war.

He said that Chinese Communists were co-operating with the Chinese war leaders in resisting Japan, but there were differences with the Chinese government over political and economic problems. The government, he added, is seeking a peaceful political settlement with the Communists.

Scona Students Visit Camrose

The cold weather didn't hamper the Strathcona high school students in their presentation of "Junior Miss" at the Camrose Basic Training Centre Wednesday night.

The drill hall was crowded with an enthusiastic and warmly bundled up audience which showed appreciation of the gameness of the performers in carrying on in the chilly hall in no uncertain manner.

Under the direction of Miss Maimie Simpson the students presented the same play with which they won success in Edmonton last week.

Miss Inez Macdonald made arrangements for the cast's appearance and introduced members to the audience. The party was entertained in the sergeants' mess and in the CWAC recreation hut.

Planets with the group included Misses Treva Abell, Mary Hatfield and Margaret Jean Lore.

15 Land Sales Completed Here

Fifteen land sales were made Thursday morning with 10 of the purchases being made by prospective home builders. Total value of the land sales was $12,500.

The Edmonton Paint & Glass Co. Ltd., purchased a property located at 10171 103 street for $6,500, to be used for extension of warehouse facilities in the post-war period.

C. L. Lehman purchased the second lot east of the 95 street and 108 avenue intersection for $325. He proposes to erect a plant 28 by 80 feet for the manufacture of gas appliances. The building, which will be of frame and stucco construction, will cost between $9,000 and $10,000.

Parents of the soldier, Mr. and Mrs. W. Carse of 9821 93 avenue, have received letters and postcards from New York, Chicago, Boston, Nova Scotia listening posts and other points, stating that a German short-wave broadcast was picked up on Jan. 26, giving the names of a number of Canadian war prisoners.

The broadcast, delivered by a woman in both the German and English languages, said Cpl. Carse was hospitalized for two weeks with an injury to his shoulder. The broadcast said "his shoulder is now better than ever" and Carse is out of hospital.

The soldier's wife, Mrs. Betty Carse of Winnipeg, has received a letter from her husband, indicating he is well.

Mr. Carse said Thursday that from news reports, he is of the opinion that the camp in which his son is located, is among those liberated recently by the onrushing Russian armies, and he is hoping to receive further word shortly.

About 200 workers are being laid off this week in Edmonton by the four large packing plants. Some of these form part of the normal seasonal lay-off and the others are due to a sharp decline in receipts of hogs. Many agricultural workers who take winter work in the plants leave at this time of the year to return to farms.

Naval Officer Tells Rotary of Rehabilitation

Personal readjustment to a new life in a changed world is far more important to the discharged service man and service woman than getting a job or the kind of job one gets, Lt. John Hewson, recruiting and discharge officer at HMCS Nonsuch, RCN VR, stated in an address to members of the Edmonton Rotary club at the weekly luncheon in the Macdonald hotel Thursday.

Lt. Hewson was speaking on "Psychological Factors in Rehabilitation."

"The fundamental problem of rehabilitation is one of the complete reintegration of service personnel into the life of the community and goes far beyond the mere getting of a job," the officer stated.

"This can only be successfully accomplished through the joint efforts of the service men and women and the community."

And the job will require time and patience.

LIFE IS DIFFERENT
Life in the service differs in every essential from civilian life. In civilian life everything encourages initiative. In the services most things conform to a pattern. Service personnel live a protected life from a sociological point of view.

In order to increase fighting efficiency most worries concerning the man's family have been removed through allowances for wives and families.

The money drawn personally in the service may be spent in whatever manner the person desires. He need consult no one.

In the service, brand new loyalties are built up to take the place of those left behind. In place of loyalties to families and civilian institutions comes loyalties to ships, regiments or squadrons.

"The service man knows exactly what to expect from his pals under conditions of emergency. In civilian life he is suddenly confronted with the exact opposite. He doesn't know what to expect and he feels bewildered at the change. People change, too, as the years pass. If the service has been long the old life has been almost forgotten in many cases," the officer said.

BE PATIENT
Lt. Hewson appealed to businessmen to recognize the difficulties facing the discharged service man or service woman and to be patient at first and not expect too much.

Rehabilitation must be a gradual process from the psychological standpoint. Housing is also important. If service men immediately have the worry connected with obtaining housing for their families they begin a great handicap to begin their battle of readjustment, he stated.

Most varieties of hard cheese are made from whole milk.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

"Keeping Company"
Perilous In Teens

Girls Foredoomed If They Devote All Their Time to One Swain; Safety in Number Is Good Slogan

A group of teen-age girls ask me why I advise them to have many boy friends instead of "keeping company" as the phrase goes, with one. Well, there are a thousand and one good reasons why this custom of going steady with one lad is a perilous one in which the girls are the foredoomed victim, and the little bobby-soxers would break it up if they were not totally ignorant of the opposite sex and their tricks and their manners.

For this going steady business is a smart stunt the boys have put over on the girls to which the little cuties get the hot end of the bargain, for it gives the boy the privilege of monopolizing the girl's time and attention and keeping all other men away from her, while it commits him to nothing whatever.

ISOLATES GIRL

She is dependent upon him for her dates. If he wants to go to the movies or to some place of amusement, she steps out. But if he has other plans, she sits at home with Mama and Papa. And if a new girl comes along who takes his fancy, he leaves her flat and forlorn, and she has to take it, for he has cut her off from all the other boys and there are no admiring swains to take his place.

Besides, for a girl to get branded as Tommy's girl or Sammy's girl simply puts her out of the running, and if Tommy or Sammy loses his taste for her she is shunned, and finds it harder to get back into circulation than she would if she were a widow or a divorcee.

Another disastrous feature of the "keeping company" custom is that it prevents both boys and girls from ever really knowing any youngsters except the ones they have tied themselves down to. And that narrows their choice when it comes to picking out a wife or husband. They have made commitments and are not free to look 'em all over and choose which ones have the qualities that appeal to them. Sammy thinks all girls are Dumb Doras because his girl friend is, and Susie believes that all men are bums and have bad manners because her steady is that way.

Many of the tragic marriages that end in divorce, or in an endurance that is sheer martyrdom, are the result of the "going steady" custom. In their immature, hobbled days, when neither the boy nor girl knew what they were going to do for themselves when they grew up nor what they would want in a life companion, they began keeping company, and this automatically shut them off from the contacts they should have had with other young people.

But as time went by they developed along different lines. One went to the church, another to the movies, and another to the dance. The boy-and-girl romance petered out, but because they had been going together so long that neither one had the courage to break it up, or because their families and friends took it for granted that they would marry, or because the man felt that he would be a heel if he didn't marry the woman who had been known as his girl since his boyhood, or because the woman knew that it was either spinsterhood for her, or the boy friend of whom she was already tired, they finally married with bitter regret in their hearts, victims of the "keeping company" custom.

So don't do it, girls! Don't narrow yourselves down to one boy friend. Have dozens of 'em. "Friendship with all, entangling alliances with none" is a good motto for teen-agers as well as governments.

MAN IS NOT THE ONLY
ANIMAL THAT COMMITS
SUICIDE

It is generally believed that no living things but men ever commit suicide, but the truth is, that a number of animals do it. Dogs and monkeys often commit suicide by refusing to eat food until they starve. This sometimes happens when the master has died or gone away and the animal refuses to leave the spot or to eat. It is claimed that hunted ducks sometimes dive to the bottom of the water, seize a root or rock and die of drowning. Certain whales commit suicide by throwing themselves up sharp rocks. Contrary to another idea, scorpions do not commit suicide by stinging themselves.

Weds Ballerina

MOSCOW, Feb. 15—(AP)—George F. Power of Montreal, private secretary to Canada's ambassador to Russia, Dana Wilgress, yesterday married Eleonora Kuznetsova, ballerina at the Bolshoi theatre, in the Roman Catholic church of St. Louis de France here. A reception by the ambassador and Mrs. Wilgress at the embassy followed the wedding.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

This isn't the easiest time of the year to give the baby his daily allotment of sun and air. The sun often is absent and the air may be clear but too frigid for baby. But we cannot coop our babies up and expect them to bloom roses in their cheeks, we have to be ingenious about providing fresh air without the danger of nipping delicate noses.

House-airing isn't impossible and it's quite satisfactory where temperatures are too low for outdoor expeditions. Close off one room of the house and open the window one inch top and bottom. Put the baby in there to sleep, first dressing him in his full outdoor regalia. He ought to snooze for a good three hours while his mother goes about her work, satisfied that he is deriving as much benefit from his outing as if she were pushing his heavy carriage laboriously up some cold street.

The use of stout, muslin screens insures plenty of fresh air in the room without the danger of uncomfortable drafts. These screens should be standard equipment for the nursery and used at night and during nap times. At other times it is well to keep the room well warmed, as babies playing in pen or on floor are subjected to the coldest temperatures in the room, several degrees lower than indicated by the thermometer. When the baby is taken outdoors for an airing, tuck a hot-water bottle at the foot of the carriage. Remember he is inactive while you are warmed up pushing the carriage. He'll like his airings far more if he is cozy warm instead of chilled and miserable.

There have to be some rules about when and when not to go outdoors and it is safe to say that neither baby nor his mother will appreciate an outing when the temperature slips toward the zero mark or when the weather is damply cold.

Remember, too, that it should be warm enough so that baby can go out with uncovered face, no smothering him with blankets pulled over his head though his face be protected from the temperature with a thin film of cold cream.

Cod liver oil, given conscientiously each day, can pinch hit for the sun, but nothing but fresh air, and more fresh air, can prevent the baby from becoming a pallid houseplant unless one manages these substitute airings in one way or another.

Our leaflet, "Cod Liver Oil and the Viosterols," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, in care of this newspaper.

DUBLIN—(CP)—Eire's ministry of industry and commerce has established a special committee to deal with research for the building industry, especially in regard to materials and construction.

I attended a lecture delivered by you in Lincoln, Nebraska, years ago, and have been a follower of your column ever since. I remember that we were just a little disappointed when you said at the opening of your lecture that you had been wined and dined by your Lincoln friends—yes you did, Doctor, you said wined. . . . Still I am convinced that when Dr. Brady says one cannot catch cold from draft, wet feet, etc., he is referring to normal, healthy people, people free from chronic infections, and not, for instance, to people who have chronic sinus infection. . . . (DD)

At first blush, Sir, I'm inclined to deny I said wined. One of the pleasantest recollections I have of this visit to Lincoln is that nobody offered me or, so far as I can remember, even served any kind of alcoholic beverage in Lincoln. That was in the era of Prohibition. I have always retained the impression that the people of Lincoln found life endurable without the narcotic influence of alcohol. On sober second thought maybe I did say "wined and dined"—just as I might say column conducting is not all beer and skittles, although I'd prefer skittles without the beer.

No, if I meant that only normal, healthy people cannot suffer any illness in consequence of draft, wet feet, etc., I'd make that perfectly clear. I say one cannot catch cold from a draft, wet feet, etc., and one means anybody, no matter whether one is normal or healthy or abnormal or unhealthy or weak or tired or overworked or "run down" low in "resistance"—if that means anything to you—it doesn't mean anything to me.

It is not that I expect any old fossil will change his opinion, but I do expect that if he is a physician or a health officer, he will have always in mind the younger folk who read this column. I want to make certain they shall have no doubt as to what I mean when I say nobody can get an illness from cold, dampness, draft, sudden change, insufficient clothing, chilling exposure, wet feet, temporary discomfort, perhaps, or even chills or frostbite, but never any illness such as colds, sore throat, measles, pneumonia, bronchitis, flu, acute sinusitis. Take your exposure with equanimity, young folk—if you escape without chills, frostbite or freezing, there is nothing whatever to worry about. Wear what you like or don't wear it if it is not comfortable. Take it from Dr. Brady, the way you dress or neglect to clothe has nothing to do with your health.

So far as hygiene or health is concerned, men, women or child in any circumstance should consider only his or her own personal comfort in deciding what to wear or not to wear.

Copyright, 1945, John E. Dille Co.

Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be brief, and written in ink. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. Address Dr. William Brady 265 El Camino South, Beverly Hills, Calif.

War
Kitchen

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Despite the short supplies of butter and other table fats and the difficulty in getting enough sugar, you can serve first-class desserts. The secret lies in using prepared puddings and mixes as a base for home-made desserts, in using naturally sweet fruits, molasses and honey. Also in using sweet crackers in recipes.

BROWNIES

(Makes 16)

Twenty graham crackers, finely rolled, 1-3 cups condensed milk, 1-3 cup seedless raisins, 1-3 cup finely chopped nuts, 7-ounce package chocolate bits, 4 teaspoon salt. Combine and mix all ingredients thoroughly. Turn into greased 8-inch pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Cool and cut into squares.

Here's a delicious canape mix made of easily available ingredients. Press into heart shape and serve on melted crackers at your party.

CANAPE HEARTS

Two cups ground bologna (1 pound), 1/4 cup chopped celery, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 2 tablespoons pickle relish, 1-3 cup mayonnaise paprika.

Put first five ingredients through food chopper; then mix with remaining ingredients. Turn into heart-shape mold, press firmly and unmold on large platter. Surround with salted crackers.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST—Baked apples, brown rice, milk, enriched toast, marmalade, coffee, milk.

LUNCH—Creamed stuffed eggs, whole wheat rolls, cottage cheese spread, stewed pears, tea, milk.

DINNER—Canape hearts, boiled tongue, tomato and horseradish sauce, parsley, boiled potatoes, buttered kale, whole rye bread, butter, stewed dried apricots, brownies, coffee, milk.

After Mass Escape

Contentends German Captives
Could Legally Seize City

CALGARY, Feb. 15.—(CP)—If all the German prisoners of war interned in Lethbridge camp should escape in a body, they would have the right, as enemy soldiers, to try and capture the city of Lethbridge and could not be punished under civil law, afterwards, for injuring civilians and taking their property.

This contention was made before the Alberta appeal court, Tuesday afternoon, by J. S. Mavor, K.C., appointed by the Swiss government to act for August Kaehler and Otto Stolski, German war prisoners, appealing from conviction and sentence of one year by Magistrate D. C. Sinclair for theft of a truck in the Strathmore district, while employed as farm helpers.

Mr. Mavor contended that the detaining power, when it interned enemy servicemen, ran the risk of a break. The escaping prisoners could be killed or they could be brought back to their internment camp but they could not be punished in the civil courts after their escape.

IN EFFECT "AWL"

In effect, the counsel argued, a prisoner of war was a serviceman absent without leave from his country's armed forces. It was not only his right but his duty to attempt to escape and rejoin his unit.

He was a combat enemy soldier in the hands of his enemies and he had the right to wage war at all times when a state of war existed. This right even included attempts to capture a town by force of arms.

Kaehler and Stolski, Mr. Mavor said, were in the same position as enemy soldiers who might land on Canadian coasts. The enemy soldiers ran the risk of being killed or captured. But, if captured, they could not be punished for being captured.

Argument was resumed Thursday morning on the question whether German prisoners of war could be convicted in civil courts for offences committed in furtherance of their escape. Yesterday, being Ash Wednesday, the court was closed.

Three Men Almost Get 3-Year Terms
For 55-Cent Theft

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15.—(CP)—For a 55-cent theft three men were sentenced in police court yesterday to three years in penitentiary but the sentence was reduced later to six months after an error was discovered.

The men, Gordon Hawley 41; William Campbell 46, and Thomas Peterson 34, appeared stunned as they were led back to their cells after hearing Magistrate H. S. Wood pronounce the three-year terms.

Magistrate Wood, under the impression they had been convicted of burglary, discovered the error, wiped out the sentence and imposed a new one of six months in jail at hard labor.

Concealing Birth
Results in Arrest

HAMILTON, Ont., Feb. 15.—(CP)—William V. Patterson, 50-year-old secretary of Mayor Sam Lawrence of Hamilton, yesterday was arrested on a charge of being an accessory after the fact in the concealment of Wilhelmina McCash, alias Duncan, of the birth of a baby last Jan. 8.

The arrest followed a court appearance yesterday of the woman, 28-year-old common-law wife of a RAF man overseas, on a charge of concealing the birth, thereby leading to the child's death. She was convicted.

During the trial she named Patterson as the father of the baby and said they had been intimate in an ante-room near Patterson's office. She was remanded for medical examination.

Police, announcing the arrest, said Patterson would be arraigned Thursday.

The woman has another child, two and a-half years old.

Before the Magistrate
One year with hard labor was the sentence passed on Hugh Baker of no stated address, when he appeared before Magistrate H. L. Hare, K.C. Thursday morning charged with theft of a truck. On a second count, theft of $76 from a Mirror resident, he was sentenced to six months.

Accused informed people he and his pal were just back from serving overseas, a RCMP officer told the court. As a matter of fact, neither had been in the services,
the official said.

While in Mirror, the two men were invited to a home for a meal.
While there, the accused helped himself to $76 from the purse of his hostess. That same night the two went on to Alis where they stole a truck. The truck broke down, damaged to the extent of about $100. The other man was dealt with at Lacombe last week, the officer stated. Baker acknowledged previous convictions for assault and robbery in Calgary, and taking an auto without its owners' consent in Edmonton, earlier this year.

Four men, three of whom "spoke no English, read no English and never received national registration orders printed in the French language," appeared before Magistrate Harold L. Hare, K.C. in city police court Thursday.

One, John Balko, who had given RCMP "a number of addresses" and who was said to have been dodging about the country since 1940, was stopped by the highway patrol and checked regarding the operation of a truck without clearance lights. In the course of investigations, it was found he had changed his residence without notifying the divisional registrar.

On a charge under the Vehicle Traffic Act he was assessed $10 or 15 days, and on another of breach of national registration regulations was fined $25 or one month. He was ordered to be taken to Prince of Wales Army at the completion of his term of imprisonment.

Three French-Canadians involved were Rene Mueau, his brother Jean Paul Mueau, and Leopold Hare, and all from Quebec and all charged with two offences under national registration regulations.
Their cases were remanded in Friday.

Expect Licenses
Alberta's new auto license plates to be issued for the 1945-46 license year are expected to arrive in Edmonton next week, according to Edmund Townshend, M.H.C. deputy provincial secretary.

The plates, black with orange figures, will be sold beginning the middle of March. About 125,000 have been ordered and will be issued one to a vehicle.

Dies in England
TORONTO, Feb. 14.—(CP)—Word was received here yesterday of the death in England of Miss Helen Kirkpatrick, daughter of the late Sir George A. Kirkpatrick, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario from 1892-97. Miss Kirkpatrick, born in Kingston, took up residence in England shortly after the death of her father in 1899.

Saskatchewan
Plans to Enter Transport Field

REGINA, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Creation of a transport board with power to engage in carrying passenger and freight traffic, and the establishment of a market in board to deal with the promotion, regulation, and control of marketing certain natural products, were forecast today in the speech from the throne read at the opening of the 1945 Saskatchewan legislature session.

The speech, read by Chief Justice
W. M. Martin, administrator, said the proposed transport board would have the power "to engage in the business of carrying passenger and freight traffic by airplane, bus or truck."

The marketing boards will be established under a proposed natural marketing act.
(Forest products marketing is expected to be controlled by one of the first boards established under this legislation.)

TAX AGREEMENT
The speech said that the Dominion government had withheld a payment under the wartime tax agreement in part payment of the 1938 seed grain debt the Dominion seeks to collect from the province.
"My government considers this act to be a violation of the agreement and fears that such action, if persisted in, will make future Dominion-provincial agreements more scraps of paper, and will make the much needed Dominion-provincial conference impossible except on a basis of fear and mistrust," the speech continued.

A tribunal has been requested by the province to establish whether the Dominion action constituted a violation of the agreement.
"If the Dominion government continues to refuse to pay subsidies due this province under a solemn agreement honorably entered into, other sources of revenue must be found," the speech said.

"If new forms of taxation become necessary, my government will strive to adhere to the principles of taxation according to ability to pay."

Joint Luncheon
Jackson Dadds, C.B.E., chairman of the central council of the Canadian Red Cross Society will be guest speaker at a joint luncheon meeting of the Men's Canadian Club and the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society,
Friday in the Mardon hotel.

Light Ships Sink Nazi Merchantman
BOAT, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A naval communiqué today reported that British light coastal craft sank a large enemy merchant ship off the Italian peninsula Monday night.
The following night light coastal craft sank three heavily armed enemy craft off Vignola Bay on the eastern side of the Italian peninsula.

Several Blazes Occur in City
Cold weather brought a minor epidemic of blazes Thursday, according to city firemen, who responded to several calls. Overheated stoves or other heating units were said to have started the fires.
A garage was gutted at 10139 117 street in a blaze which broke out about 2:30 a.m. while slight damage to a garage located near 101st street in a home at 9123 81 avenue at 11:13
a.m.
Shortly after the noon hour, two more calls were turned in in quick succession. One of these was a residence at 149 street and Jasper avenue, which was brought under control quickly, and a garage at Dan-dagan avenue.

Alberta Airmen Receive Awards
WINNIPEG, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Hon.
R. F. McWilliams, lieutenant-governor of Manitoba, yesterday presented decorations to 10 members of the Royal Canadian Air Force for leadership and meritorious service at an investiture held in Government House. Senior officers of the Navy, Army and Air Force attended. The awards included Distinguished Flying Cross, D.F.C., D.F.M., Maurice McLaughlin, Rocky Rapids,
Alta.; F.D. Ralph Clark, Vulcan, Alta.

May Be Clarified
The exact position of Alberta with respect to the new National Housing Act may be revealed here at the beginning of next week with the return from Ottawa of Hon.
Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney general, who is expected Monday.
Mr. Maynard went east a week ago with H. J. Wilson, K.C., deputy attorney-general. He planned to confer at Ottawa with Hon. J. L.
Lisley, minister of finance, on the whole housing problem.
The minister also planned to investigate questions arising out of the recent overseas vote.

Continuation of Home Projects
Mayor John W. Fry is hopeful that temporary housing projects contemplated here under the National Housing Act will be proceeded with, according to advice received by Commissioner John Hodgson, city commissioner.
These projects, which would have given approximately 500 temporary accommodation units in the city, were cancelled when the National Housing Act was declared operative throughout Canada. One of the projects was the conversion of huts at the Jean's Garage and the exhibition grounds into units, the other was the erection of houses from materials available at Dawson Creek, B.C.

LEAVES FRIDAY
Commissioner Hodgson said that Hon. J. A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, would leave Ottawa Friday night for Edmonton, and it was possible that an announcement of the government's policy in connection with the housing projects would be made by him on his arrival here.

Mayor Fry left Ottawa Thursday for Toronto where he will present a brief from the wholesale plumbers in Edmonton to the controller of plumbing supplies.
Commissioner Hodgson said that plumbing supplies had been a bottle-neck in Edmonton building for some time past.

While in Toronto Mayor Fry will also see representatives of financial houses in connection with further refunding of the city's debt.

Mustard gas released in a damp, dense jungle, may remain effective for a year.
